

nathan grey — as it is

“as it is” is collection of new works mostly painted from life. I distil my practice down to play and that of a problem solving exercise.

Even though they can appear simple, it does not mean they take any less time to complete. With nowhere to hide, proportion, colour and tone become ever so important. Sometimes removing a mark holds more weight than adding one.

Also included are a selection of bespoke hand carved bowls. Perhaps an insight into where I’d like to focus more of my energy in future.
